CEMLA Conference 2026

CALL FOR PAPERS

November 5 - 6, 2026 – Mexico City (face-to-face)

The Center for Latin American Monetary Studies (CEMLA) is organizing the CEMLA Conference 2026 to be held on November 5 - 6, 2026. We invite contributions within the broad range of topics of interest to central banks, including (but not limited to) monetary theory and policy, financial intermediation (both theory and empirics), climate-related aspects of financial stability and monetary policy, digitalization and financial markets, and payments and other financial market infrastructures.

Papers accepted for presentation will be discussed by another speaker within the same session. Accepted papers, as well as presentations and discussions, will be posted on the Conference website to facilitate the discussion among participants.

Keynote Speakers

Barry Eichengreen, University of California, Berkeley
Thomas Drechsel, Johns Hopkins University

Venue

The conference will be held at CEMLA's facilities in Mexico City in a face-to-face format. There is no registration fee. However, participants are expected to pay their expenses for travel and accommodation.

LAJCB Publication

Papers accepted for the Conference are encouraged to be submitted to the Latin American Journal of Central Banking. Authors who wish their paper to be considered for the LAJCB should clearly indicate this in their Conference submission.
